African Sheep Has Been on Loose 2 Nights

Binghamton, N. Y., May 24 (AP)—If you see an African mountain sheep on the loose, notify the Binghamton Zoo. The sheep, Buster, has been missing since Monday night, when he escaped from six men transporting him from a truck to a pen. He jumped over a five-foot fence, landed in a geranium bed, leaped another fence and disappeared. He left Mona, his mate, behind. Buster is not dangerous. But he may sample some gardens. The sheep were born and raised on the Catskill Game Farm near Cairo, Greene county. Roland Landmann, who operates the farm, suggested that Mona be kept in an outdoor pen. Buster, a white, looking for her, Landmann said.

GM's Pact Is Hailed as New Phase

No Wage Reopening Is Permitted Until 1955 Under Terms; Looks for Labor Peace

Superiority Cited Contract Seen Better Than Ford, Chrysler Agreements

Detroit, May 24 (AP)—The sudden and significant new General Motors pact left the auto industry today in its most settled condition in years. All the "Big Three" producers—G.M., Ford and Chrysler—and some of the so-called independents were signed up with the C.I.O. United Auto Workers for at least two years. Longest of all the agreements is the unprecedented five-year General Motors pact announced yesterday. It does not permit even a wage reopening before 1955. The Ford contract allows either the company or union to ask for wage adjustments once before it expires in 1952. The Chrysler contract permits two wage reopenings by either side in its three-year duration. All this seemed to leave both sides in the industry satisfied. Management was looking forward to long periods free from labor strife. The U.A.W. was hopeful of using the Big Three agreements as patterns at scores of smaller firms where bargaining has been held up pending the big settlements.

Is Cauter Superior The union claimed the G.M. pact was far superior to either the strikeless Ford settlement last September or the Chrysler settlement at the end of a 100-day strike May 4. Its major provisions were these: 1. Continuation of the unique escalator clause in the old two-year contract. This hitches the wages of nearly 250,000 G.M. workers to the cost of living as measured by the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics. 2. A guaranteed four-cent hourly wage boost when the contract goes into effect next Monday and another each May 25 thereafter for the next four years. This is known as an "annual improvement factor" unaffected by ups and downs in living costs. 3. Pensions of at least $100 a month, including federal Social Security benefits, with a maximum of $117.50 if the government's pension plan is increased by Congress. Full pensions are payable at age 65 after 25 years service.

Are Company-Financed Except for Social Security, the pensions will be entirely company-financed through a trust fund. A joint company-union board will administer them. 4. A modified version of a union shop. This requires all new employees to join the union within 90 days for a period of at least a year, giving them an option of quitting at the end of that time. Old employees now in the union will be required to maintain their membership. Those not now in the union are not required to join. The terms also provide increases in vacation benefits and in medical hospital insurance.

From 19 to 35 Cents U.A.W. President Walter Reuther said the G.M. settlement was worth 19 cents an hour immediately, and 35 cents after the last four-cent wage boost is paid. He estimated it will cost the company more than $1,000,000,000 over the five-year period and will add $700 a year to the average G.M. worker's income by 1955. General Motors President C. E. ## Kelly Is Arraigned on Charge He Murdered Mrs. Eloise McHugh

Maritime Vanishes As 16 Plans Are Made Effective

Reorganization Proposals Are Cleared Prior to Deadline; 5 Are Killed

Washington, May 24 (AP)—Sixteen presidential reorganization plans took effect today with the consent of Congress. The Senate yesterday cleared the last three of 21 of President Truman's proposals, only a few hours before the midnight deadline at which they became law. It had killed five previously. The Maritime Commission vanished as a legal body. Mr. Truman is expected to replace it promptly with a new, three-member "Federal Maritime Board" of temporary appointees. Until he acts, all five former commissioners are jobless and the agency's 2,500 workers can do only routine chores while waiting to have a new agency built around them, within the Commerce Department. As further results in the reorganization drive, four cabinet officers gained even more authority in their departments—justice, commerce, interior and labor. Some of their subordinate offices, such as J. Edgar Hoover's Federal Bureau of Investigation in Justice, the Reclamation Bureau in Interior, and the Wage-Hour Division in Labor, were shorn of semi-independent powers.

Executive Bosses Simultaneously, the chairman of four major commissions became the executive bosses of the agencies—The Federal Trade, Federal Power, and Securities and Exchange Commissions, and the Civil Aeronautics Board. Seven other plans became law on the stroke of midnight. They re-assorted various chores in an attempt to impose order on the confused government structure. The three plans which reached (Continued on Page 3, Col. 6)

His Examination Is Adjourned Week on Consent of District Attorney's Office; Witnesses Called Before Grand Jury; No Emotion Shown

Edward H. Kelly, 31, former Kingston real estate broker, was arraigned before City Judge Raymond J. Mino today on a first degree murder charge only two days after his alleged slaying of Mrs. Eloise McHugh, 44, of 92 Green street, and attempt on his own life near the First Dutch Reformed Church on Main street.

The defendant appeared pale, but gave no outward sign of disturbing emotion. He asked, through his attorney, Charles J. Sacoman, that examination be adjourned one week and this was granted on consent of the district attorney's office, represented by Attorney Charles H. Gaffney.

Kelly was committed to the county jail to be held without bail.

The wound on Kelly's head from his apparent attempt to end his life after he allegedly shot Mrs. McHugh with a rifle from a borrowed car, was reported not serious and his condition improved steadily since he was admitted to Kingston Hospital Monday morning.

Authorities were undecided yesterday whether his condition would permit arraignment today, but police and the city judge were notified shortly before 9:30 a. m. today that he would be discharged from the hospital, and he was brought to the detention room, opposite police headquarters in the city hall, pending arraignment later this morning.

Kelly, formerly of 92 Green street, had been staying recently at Shokan.

Witnesses to the shooting Monday were called before the grand jury today but nothing on the Kelly case is expected in a partial report of the jury scheduled for Friday. An indictment, if found, could be returned next week, it was indicated, but trial is not expected to take place before next fall.

The Freeman has been requested to report that Edward H. Kelly formerly conducted his real estate business from 92 Green street but did not make his residence there. It was stated by a member of the McHugh family that Kelly roomed at the Hurley Hotel prior to going to Shokan.

British Homes Are Cold Eastbourne, England (AP)—A British expert admits that Britain has "the coldest, draftiest and dampest homes of any civilized nation." Donald V. H. Smith, a heating expert, owned up to what many foreign visitors have been saying for ages when he spoke to the housing section of the Royal Sanitary Institute. Americans think 69 degrees is the best room temperature. Smith said most authorities agree that for Britain 63 to 64 is desirable in living rooms and 50 to 55 in bedrooms. "These temperatures cannot be obtained by normal and traditional means," he said, "without a larger consumption of solid fuel than the present restricted amounts."

Last winter Wavell was elected governor of the Shakespeare Memorial Theatre at Stratford-on-Avon, a post he found most congenial. But his primary interest remained in the military field, and he never ceased assailing some traditional British barracks room and parade ground practices. He wanted alert, intelligent soldiers able to meet emergencies unencumbered by traditional ways of doing things.

427 Tons Blew Up Blast Toll 31 Persons

New York May 24 (AP)—Here's the list of just what blew up when four barges of munitions exploded at South Amboy, N. J., last Friday night: Dynamite—51 tons. Anti-personnel mines—84 tons. Anti-tank mines—232 tons. Total—427 tons. The figures were disclosed yesterday at the official U. S. Coast Guard hearing into the cause of the blast that killed 31 persons and did millions of dollars in damage to the New Jersey port. The dynamite, made up in the common 40 per cent industrial strength, was bound for an American road-building firm in Afghanistan. The war supplies—the mines—were en route to Pakistan.

Both Sides Rest In Libel Action of Adler and Draper

Two Men Offer Final Testimony in $200,000 Case; Denies Hearing Talk

Hartford, Conn., May 24 (AP)—Both sides rested today in the $200,000 libel suit brought by Larry Adler and Paul Draper against Mrs. Eleanor R. McCullough, Greenwich, Conn. housewife.

The action followed presentation of rebuttal testimony by the defendants. Federal Judge J. Joseph Smith then declared a mid-morning recess.

Adler, the final rebuttal witness, was asked about his activity for the committee for the first amendment, which in 1947 protested the House Un-American Activities Committee probe of Hollywood.

Thomas A. Diskin, defense counsel, asked "Didn't you care what the public would think about your protest?" "I don't think I have ever cared about what the public thinks of my beliefs," Adler replied. "Even if they draw the conclusion that you are a Communist sympathizer?" Diskin asked. "If they did that I think they are drawing a false conclusion, the harmonica player said."

Earlier Draper had testified he did not feel he was pro-Communist by appearing at benefits for organizations after they were cited as subversive. Yesterday he called himself a "left wing fellow" and said he was a New Dealer and a follower of Henry Wallace. He denied that either he or Adler were Communists or had pro-Communist sympathies.

Not His Consideration Diskin asked Draper whether he realized he might be referred to as having pro-Communist sympathies by appearing at benefits for organizations listed as subversive.

I did not feel that I was pro-Communist," the dancer replied. "I cannot conceivably answer how I am going to be referred to; that is somebody else's consideration."

The dancer also told the jury that "very often I would go to a benefit show without knowing who else was on the bill."

John J. Totten, of Freeport, N. Y., manager of Carnegie Hall, a rebuttal witness, testified he watched Draper perform with Duke Ellington and Jimmy Savoy at a March, 1944, benefit for the joint anti-Fascist Refugee Committee.

Denies Hearing Speech Totten denied hearing Draper make a speech offering $22,500 proceeds from a Latin-American work.

Charge Is He Got Data From Fuchs

Harry Gold, Suspect. Told F.B.I. He Felt He Would Be Helping Soviet Future

Is Held in Prison

Man Is Confined in Lieu of Bail; F.B.I. Agents Quiz Fuchs

Philadelphia, May 24 (AP)—A 35-year-old Philadelphia research chemist at Russian extraction is held today in $100,000 bail, charged with receiving atomic bomb secrets from Dr. Klaus Fuchs and turning them over to Soviet Russia. Dr. Fuchs is the former top British atomic scientist serving 14 years for passing atom secrets to Russia.

Arrest of Harry Gold, senior bio-chemist in one of Philadelphia's largest hospitals for the last two years, was announced in Washington last night by Attorney General McGrath and F.B.I. Director J. Edgar Hoover. A few minutes later in the Philadelphia chambers of Federal Judge James P. McGurney, the short, pudgy Gold was given a 15-minute hearing and lodged off to Philadelphia's Moyamensing prison in lieu of bail. Gold's work at Philadelphia General Hospital was on federally-financed heart research. Judge McGurney set June 12 at 10 a. m. for a further hearing. The time of his arrest was not disclosed.

Based on Information In announcing the arrest, McGrath said the charges were based on information supplied by Dr. Fuchs, who was arrested in February and pleaded guilty March 1.

In London two F.B.I. agents questioned Dr. Fuchs today for the third time, trying to trace the links of the Soviet atom espionage in America. They had quizzed him last on Saturday and again yesterday. An American official described the imprisoned British scientist as "most cooperative" with the F.B.I. officials. He said the agents will continue questioning him daily until the investigation is completed.

No Secrecy About Job Dr. Herbert Hagan, a resident physician at Philadelphia General, described Gold as a "hard worker, who often worked late at night."

There was no secrecy connected with the work at the hospital. There are no secret projects here and nothing that has to do with atomic energy or anything in that line.

Single, Harry lived with his brother and father Samuel, a cabinet maker. The mother died about two years ago. Joseph is employed at the naval air supply depot here, and is a veteran of army service in the Pacific.

The Justice Department said Harry was born in Switzerland and that both his parents were natives of Russia. He came to the United States in 1914 when he was four years old and claims derivative citizenship as a result of the naturalization of his parents. Their family name of Goldensky was changed to Gold when they were naturalized, the department said.

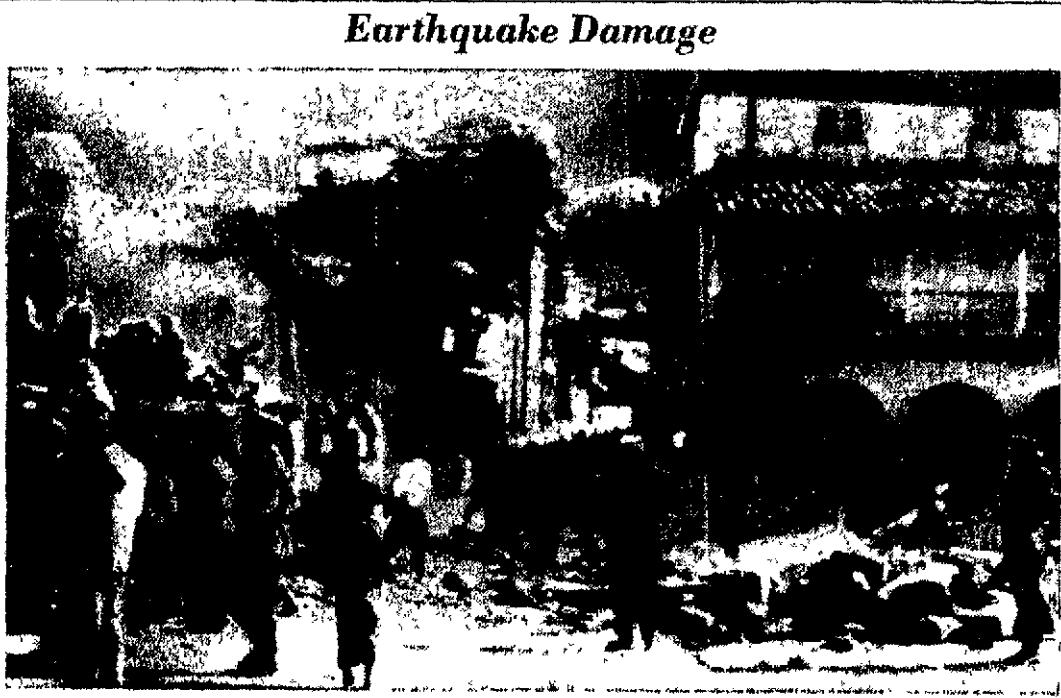

Gold Is Quoted The F.B.I. which indicated it has been watching Gold for a long time, quoted him as telling bureau agents when he was taken into custody. "I thought that I would be helping a nation whose final aims I approved along the road to industrial strength. Particularly was I taken with the idea that whatever I did would go to help make living conditions far more advanced along the road as we (Continued on Page 8, Col. 7)

Erickson Associate Told To Return for Questioning

New York, May 24 (AP)—The first of 25 alleged associates of multi-million dollar bookie Frank Erickson is under questioning by the district attorney's office.

He is William J. Sullivan, 52, of New York. Search for the 25 men started last Friday in District Attorney Frank S. Hogan's probe of gambling and other racketeering.

Sullivan received a grand jury subpoena Monday, and showed up at the district attorney's office yesterday. He was questioned for an hour and ordered to return Thursday. Authorities said Sullivan's name appeared on a folder which was among voluminous records seized in a raid on Erickson's Park avenue headquarters May 2. Income tax papers in the folder, authorities said, gave Sullivan's employer's name as Jack Lennon, of Cliffside Park, N. J., reputed Erickson lieutenant. More of the 25 men on the list are expected to appear at the district attorney's office this week. But three of them won't. They have been found to be dead. The Manhattan district attorney has been getting information from prosperous businessmen about bets they placed with Erickson. (Continued on Page 3, Col. 3)

There, District Attorney Miles F. McDonald predicted more arrests through the cooperative grand jury testimony closely-guarded mystery witness.

The witness, who had been in protective custody in a hotel for three weeks, was identified by McDonald as Phineas C. Perryman, 57, of Brooklyn, alleged "bunch man" or foreman in a policy ring. McDonald said Perryman will be a prosecution witness when more cases come to trial.

Perryman was released yesterday as a material witness in a $5,000 bail—which was surprisingly low—and McDonald explained:

"Because he has... cooperated to the fullest, we felt it was due him to have his freedom. He has a legitimate business which is suffering."

The business, the prosecutor said, in a 45-acre real estate development in Patchogue on Long Island.

Labor Strife Cost 7 Millions To New York Central, Is Report

Albany, N. Y., May 24 (AP)—Labor strife cost the New York Central Railroad an estimated $7,000,000 of net income in the first four months of 1950, Gustav Metzman, president of the system said today.

He assailed as "mad folly" the action of leaders of the Railroad Firemen's Brotherhood in calling the recent strike, and said union attitudes have rendered impotent the Railway Labor Act, "once considered a model law for settlement of disputes."

His estimate of financial losses resulting from the six-day firemen's strike, from traffic diversions preceding it, and from strikes in the coal and automotive industries, was made in remarks prepared for the annual stockholders meeting here.

Metzman reported that for four months ended April 30 the New York Central had a net deficit of $3,557,938, against a net income of $3,884,267 in the same period a year ago. Gross revenues totaled $223,658,976 compared with $239,507,962 in the 1949 period.

General MacArthur, Patterson testified, has the key to the chest and is awaiting orders as to disposition of the treasure which Patterson said consists of "jewelry, precious items, gold and foreign currency."

It was seized from the Japanese at the end of the war, but the committee does not know where the Japanese got it.

Says It's in Tokyo. Patterson said the treasure is in Tokyo. He did not estimate its value, but committee members said it was sufficient to "pay a potentate's ransom several times over."

From General Lucius Clay, former American military governor of Germany, the committee received some interesting information on war loot taken from the Nazis.

Clay testified that the invading Americans seized between 250 and 300 million dollars worth of Nazi gold which was split up among 16 nations claiming reparations from Germany. Russia was not one of them.

Clay estimated at "many millions of dollars" the value of property that had belonged to Hermann Goering, Hitler's Reich minister. It was turned over to Goering's widow and later was confiscated by the German government when the widow was held to be a Nazi.

Returned to Owners. Clay told the committee that several million pieces of art which ranged from priceless paintings down to cheap chinaware, were returned to their owners from whom the Nazis had stolen them.

Jewelry, gold teeth and other valuables taken from concentration camp victims, he said, originally were turned over to storm troopers and deposited in German banks. The Americans turned them over to relief organizations which sold them for an estimated $30,000,000 and used the money to help survivors.

Rail Brotherhoods Postpone Strike

Cleveland, May 24 (AP)—Four Railroad Operating Brotherhoods have postponed until June 10 a strike they had set for tomorrow against the New York Central Railroad Lines east of Buffalo.

The date was changed at the request of the National (Railway) Mediation Board, said Carl J. Goff, assistant president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers.

Other unions involved are the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Order of Railway Conductors and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

Goff said the unions had decided yesterday to strike at 5 a. m. (E.S.T.) Thursday, but a few hours later accepted a Mediation Board plea for further attempts at settlement.

"Some 290 miscellaneous grievances—many of them individual cases—are involved," Goff said. Some of the cases stem from differences between the union and the carrier over interpretation of railroad adjustment board awards, he added.

In New York a New York Central spokesman said the basic grievance involved in the current strike threat was a claim to extra pay for switching at North Bergen, N. J. Trainmen there claimed that ordinarily the job would be done by other workers.

The union received a partial award in the case, but wanted it retroactive to 1939 and the railroad resisted the N.Y.C. spokesman said.

Maritime Vanishes. A vote yesterday involve centering authority in the Commerce Department on Secretary Sawyer, shifting Federal Works Planning from the General Services Administration to the Housing and Home Finance Agency, concentrating the control of federal office building space in the G.S.A.

Five Rejected Plans. The five rejected plans affected the Treasury and Agriculture Departments, the Interstate Commerce and Federal Communications Commissions, and the National Labor Relations Board.

Under the Reorganization Act of 1949, presidential plans become law automatically unless vetoed by either House or Congress within 60 days. The 60th working day expired at midnight.

DISPLACED PERSONS BILL

Not long ago a 12-year-old Latvian girl landed in New York. She was the 150,000th European to enter the United States under the 1948 Displaced Persons Law.

The blonde youngster was greeted by an Army band, a delegation of national and local officials, and many friendly Americans. She was taken on a round of ceremony, topped off by an appearance at Washington's sesquicentennial celebration.

Eventually she'll settle down and go to high school in a small New York town. She wants to study medicine so she can help others as they have helped her family.

The warmth of America's response to this young girl is typical of the open-hearted welcome most of us have always shown toward the homeless and downtrodden of other lands.

It contrasts pointedly with the chill that hangs over a proposal in Congress to liberalize the D.P. law so we can do a better job of meeting this need.

Under present law only 55,000 more D.P.'s may be admitted to the United States. The pending revision would allow an additional 134,000 beyond that number to enter. Furthermore, it would be a step toward wiping out restrictions that have been widely assailed as marked by religious and racial bias.

Few measures in Congress have enjoyed broader backing. All the elements of U. S. life, including labor and farm organizations, have spoken up.

This bill has now passed both houses of Congress. In fact, it cleared the Senate April 5, after getting through the House last year. That it hasn't yet reached the White House for virtually sure signature is due to one main obstacle.

That roadblock is Senator McCarran, Nevada Democrat who heads the Judiciary Committee which considers such legislation. McCarran has been a bitter enemy of D.P. plans at every stage. In 1949 he succeeded in shelving a liberalizing proposal. This year the measure passed despite his dogged opposition.

But, as is common, certain differences exist between the House and Senate versions of the bill. Selected members of the two chambers must meet in conference to reconcile them. Except where the gaps are wide, compromise should be a matter of days—not weeks.

No such broad differences exist on the D.P. bill. Reports from the capital make plain the delay is being caused by McCarran's last-ditch efforts to kill the measure. He hopes, apparently, that Congress will adjourn before action is forced.

TAX ON TAXES

Surveying the cost of paying taxes in a group of 125 manufacturing companies, the National Industrial Conference Board found that this cost for the average concern in the group amounted to one dollar of every thousand received for sales. This may sound like a trifling amount, but if this admittedly very rough rate were applied to all American concerns, outside of agriculture and the government, the total outlay would be something near $200,000,000 a year. This is not any part of taxes paid, it is only the cost of making out the various forms and keeping the special records required for tax purposes. This is, says the board, a "tax on taxes."

The cost does not end with the making out of these forms. They have to be dealt with by the tax-collecting units of federal, state, county and local governments. In all probability the government cost of handling them is higher than the taxpayers' cost, and the governmental units besides must pay for the forms. This cost, too, is really a tax on taxes.

Surely the industrial and commercial taxpayer's task could be made more simple. It's safe to guess that not all of the countless forms are really needed, and most forms probably include unneeded items. It has been suggested that all taxes be collected through one central agency, for all units of government, and that possibility ought to be worth exploring. At present, unhappily, the trend

THE HOOVER PROPOSAL

When Herbert Hoover made the proposal that the United Nations be reorganized without Soviet Russia, it attracted wide editorial notice. An examination of 369 editorials shows the following reactions to a breakdown of his speech into its component parts:

Mr. Hoover said:
 "Our experience with Russia is the belated realization that this is not one world. It is two worlds. One world is militaristic, imperialistic, atheistic and without compassion. The other world still holds to believe in God, free nations, human dignity and peace."

On this 300 papers agree—69 disagree.

Mr. Hoover said:
 "More and more the burdens of defending free men and nations are being thrust upon the American people, who are only one-sixth the population of the globe. We are becoming more and more isolated as the sole contender in this cold war. We are steadily losing ground because the non-Communist states are being picked off one by one or they are compromising with the Communists."

On this proposition 322 papers agree—47 disagree.

Mr. Hoover said:
 "What the world needs today is a definite, spiritual mobilization of the nations who believe in God against this tide of Red agnosticism. It needs a moral mobilization against the hideous ideas of the police state and human slavery. The world needs mobilization against this creeping Red imperialism."

On this idea 321 papers agree—48 disagree.

Mr. Hoover proposed:
 "I suggest that the United Nations should be reorganized without the Communist nations in it. If that is impractical then a definite New United Front should be organized of those peoples who disavow communism, who stand for morals and religion, and who love freedom."

"This is specifically not a proposed extension of a military alliance or any color of it. It is a proposal based solely upon moral, spiritual and defense foundations. It is a proposal to redeem the concept of the United Nations to the high purpose for which it was created. It is a proposal for moral and spiritual cooperation of God-fearing free nations."

On this proposition 179 papers agree—199 papers disagree or believe we should try it a while longer.

Mr. Hoover said:
 "The United States needs to know who are with us in the cold war against these practices, and whom we can trust."

On this proposition 301 papers agree—68 papers disagree.

I talked to Mr. Hoover recently concerning these propositions and the editorial reaction to them. He said that the purpose of his speech was to indicate the seriousness of our problems arising from our failure to save our civilization and at the same time avoid war. He summarized our situation in the following pattern:

1. To withdraw all aid to Europe, retreat into the western hemisphere, arm to the teeth, and wait on events. "This is the full isolationist position, to which Mr. Hoover does not agree."

2. To go to war with the Communists, with our eyes open to the fact that there would be no civilization left.

3. For Europe genuinely to arm with 140 divisions (which they had in World Wars I and II) and thus, with the assistance of the United States, present such a defensive force as would put any notion of attack by Russia out of the mind of the Politburo.

4. To continue the present policies of a cold war, of which General Omar Bradley, Secretary of the Navy Matthews and John Foster Dulles have said within the past two weeks that we are losing. "Thus the United States would continue to be bled while endeavoring to set up resistance among peoples who do not have the will to resist."

5. On account of Mr. Hoover's proposition of reorganization of the United Nations into a real moral, spiritual and economic front that could at least deal with the Communist nations.

The point that Mr. Hoover makes is that none of these propositions is altogether satisfactory. They place a heavy burden on the American people for the next quarter century with none of the targets clearly in view. Yet, Mr. Hoover insists that his proposal for United Nations reform would give us a better insight into the purposes of our friends. It might even disclose whether we have any substantial friends.

ACCIDENT-PRONE AUTOMOBILE DRIVER

There are certain individuals, men and women, who have more accidents than others. They are called "accident prone." Our accident insurance companies have a list of these individuals and in practically every case the accidents are genuine.

In "The American Journal of Psychiatry," Drs. W. A. Tillman and G. E. Hobbs report their study carried out by the psychiatrically oriented Department of Clinical Preventive Medicine of the University of Western Ontario. "Previous literature has shown that a small proportion of any group of individuals has a high proportion of the accidents which occur to the entire group, and the accident prone individuals who comprise this small proportion tend to have certain 'personality' characteristics in common. In London, Ontario, the bus drivers could be divided into high accident and low accident groups; 10 per cent of the drivers accounted for 25 per cent of the accidents."

The high-accident taxi drivers had the following characteristics: unstable family background with broken homes, aggressive fears in childhood, truancy and aggressive sports in school days, frequent changes of jobs, superficial and shifting social contacts, good health with few functional symptoms, immature (childish) boisterous behavior, careless driving, being more critical of others than of themselves and a "fatalistic, rebellious and short-term expectancy philosophy of life."

The low accident taxi drivers had the following features: Stable family background, timidity and shyness in childhood particularly in group sports, but not so aggressively and no truancy from school, stable employment record, stable friendships and hobbies, responsible family life, poorer health than the other group with more functional (not organic) complaints; they were quiet, conscientious, cautious drivers with concern for others.

Drs. Tillman and Hobbs present case histories and show that an individual can be changed from an accident-prone driver to one with fewer accidents. Their investigations show that "accidents" are not "chance" but related to patterns of living, and can be prevented by a mental hygiene program.

seems to be opposite; the work of paying taxes is becoming heavier instead of lighter. It is time to change the trend.

'I Raise You, Harry'

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington — Tall, scholarly Congressman J. M. "Judge" Combs of Texas seldom opens his mouth unless he has something to say. He had plenty to say behind closed doors the other day when the ways and means committee voted a big reduction in the capital-gains tax on upper-bracket taxpayers—and it wasn't much to his colleagues' ears.

Combs bluntly charged the committee with handling out millions in tax relief to Wall Street stock traders and other who make "quick profits on turnover transactions."

"You are unfairly discriminating against more than 60,000,000 low and moderate taxpayers who derive their income from salaries, wages and ordinary business income," the Texas chieftain bellowed.

"It has always been my understanding that taxes should be easiest on those least able to bear them, but you are handing out a lot of relief here to people who can best afford taxes."

Combs angrily pointed out that the people the committee had "put on relief" by reducing the capital-gains tax from 25 to 16 per cent were individuals with annual incomes of $15,000 or more and married couples with joint incomes of $30,000 or more.

Rep. Walter Lynch, Democrat of New York, was moved down by the Texas when they argued that a quicker turnover of securities would stimulate the economy. "Now that is a pretty plausible argument, and every uninformed person the country over swallows it and repeats it. Well, a canning propaganda groups throughout the country play that tune. I concede, in fact, that our government is more wasteful and more inefficient than a streamlined dictatorship, and that its operating efficiency does not look good when placed alongside that of a smooth-working, private American business organization."

"But is that what we are striving for?" boomed Johnson. "Are we forgetting that we are trying to maintain a democratic system of representative government here in America? All of us, I am sure, would have no hesitation in choosing between a highly efficient administration by a dictator in a totalitarian state and a less efficient administration under the checks and balances of democracy."

"The American businessman and the American worker must understand the kind of cake that is hidden under the pretty frosting," Johnson warned.

Wrong Radio

Mrs. Frances Bolton, the wealthy congresswoman from Ohio, served a "midnight breakfast" in honor of Senator Taft after his radio broadcast replying to President Truman's whistle-stop speeches.

Before Taft went on the air, Mrs. Bolton herded her prominent Republican guests around the radio for a publicity picture. The idea was to show them listening with rapt attention to Taft.

But as the cameras clicked, they switched on the radio, and out came the voice of Robert Nathan, C.I.O. economist. He was praising the President's whistle-stop speeches.

Note—Lucky it wasn't a sound picture!

Merry-Go-Round

Wayne Morse is the only Republican for whom Harry Truman campaigned on his "non-political" tour. At the senator's telegraphed request, the President stopped at Baker, Oregon, and spoke warm words of praise for the liberal Republican....G.O.P. National Chairman Guy Gabrielson is not happy about the headlines Vice Johnston got shadowing Harry Truman. Johnston is reported to have his eyes on the national chairmanship—Vice Johnston, on the other hand, didn't relish traveling with progressive Republican Phil Willkie....Best laugh on the Truman trip was the assignment of reporters for the Chicago Tribune and the British Broadcasting Corporation as roommates. Leonard Miall of the BBC asked his companion "what would happen, old boy, if Colonel McCormick called and I answered the telephone?"....The sign on Sen. Ed Martin's wall hit the nail right on the head after the Grundy machine's defeat in Pennsylvania. The sign read: "No man is indispensable." Martin, incidentally, is a Grundy lieutenant.

Today in Washington

If Stability Has Been Achieved, 5 Year Pact Represents Something New in Industry

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, May 24 — If the five-year agreement really is honored and the union can keep its members from striking when the cost-of-living index forces a wage cut—then something new and encouraging will have been introduced in labor-management relations by the latest settlement between General Motors and the United Automobile Workers Union (U.A.W.).

The company apparently was willing to pay a substantial price for at least a promise of stability in the next five years. Much more important is how the agreement was made and what the implications are for other businesses and other labor unions whether competition has been promoted by the episode.

What we are witnessing is a curious twist to the idea of big business. Only a big labor union could make such an agreement as that with General Motors and only a big company could take the financial risks involved in it. Big business may now become virtuous in the eyes of union leaders—for that's the way they can make their biggest gains.

To the smaller units in business, it isn't so encouraging. For it sets a pace that only the big companies can maintain. Just as there is price leadership in industry, there now is wage leadership. Whatever the biggest and most successful company is willing to pay, the weaker competitor is forced to pay also.

The General Motors settlement was made possible by the Chrysler and Ford contacts with the unions. Now that General Motors has made a settlement which in some respects is better than the Auto Workers' Union got from either Chrysler or Ford, the way is opened for renewed demands next year to increase wages in the other car companies.

The General Motors agreement will be hailed as a victory for collective bargaining. In a sense, that is true, but when a big union is permitted to play one competitor off against another and cash in on the advances gained in a battle with another company, which is collective bargaining was prolonged and bitter, the sweet reasonableness apparently manifested in the later contest can hardly be expected to start an era of brotherly love in the industry as a whole.

The truth of the matter is that the Auto Workers' Union took a lesson in the Chrysler strike and is operating to its own disadvantage. Five years of "peace" is something to talk about five years hence if it is realized, rather than now when it is only pledged on paper.

referred, the city that in this instance pensions "better than $100 a month" are to be paid means that the $125-a-month demand by the union was not granted.

But General Motors did make several concessions on the pension issue and on the so-called social benefits. It increased wage scales in certain skilled-labor classifications and, in return, the union gave away somewhat on the union shop issue and on several other items, including the usual demand for yearly reopening of contract issues.

What General Motors did may send shivers up and down the spines of some executives in other industries. For the leading company in the auto industry has, in effect, agreed to add to the pension plan certain sums that will be passed through new payments by the expected change in federal law on social security.

Heretofore many companies have assumed that their pension load would be diminished by the amount that the federal government would add in the way of pension income. Some existing agreements in the steel industry already provide this. While it is true that these contracts, in a main, cannot be respected for five years on the pension issue, the unions can readily use their demand for it to trade with in withdrawing some other demand for higher wages. This will happen, of course, when reopening clauses on wage issues are available to the unions.

The modified union shop that was granted by General Motors is not as the unions would like it. New employees must join a union but can withdraw within a year without losing their jobs. Old employees are frozen in the union for five years. If they are already members, Non-union employees can retain their jobs and refrain from joining a union.

Compulsory membership of any kind in a union is, of course, a denial of civil rights. It is far worse than any of the other attempts nowadays to control a labor union by something "liberal," cry out against it every thing else except union matters. But here it is in a labor-union agreement nevertheless.

General Motors is betting on continued prosperity. If adverse comes, it will discover that no large company has ever been able to insist on lateral adherence to a contract which a labor union feels and is operating to its own disadvantage. Five years of "peace" is something to talk about five years hence if it is realized, rather than now when it is only pledged on paper.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The publicity about gambling has renewed the ancient reputation of New Orleans as a cesspool of wickedness, although gambling men are no more wonton than unionizers, members of the Roosevelt tribe or alumni of Harvard Law. Out of a large personal acquaintance with professionals in tolerated premises in Miami, the late Harry Shannon, Havana and Hollywood, to mention only a few resorts which treated table-games as an amiable and profitable peccadillo, I recall no individual whose personal conduct compared ill with the general standard of the customers' side of the tables.

Ed Bradley, who in the chaotic white den of general iniquity at Palm Beach, was a man of princely public bearing and I never heard a breath of scandal as to his conduct on his own time. Mr. Bradley had dealt faro, the gamblers' own game, on Clark street, Chicago, and in New Orleans, where he was a partner at all for two reasons. First, he had the percentage running for him in every bet and, in the long run, couldn't lose. The other was that the patrons always were willing to lose more than they dared to win. A partner at his board, having won $100 more often than not would beg the $61 question: take down and go home, please, Mr. Bradley. But if he won only $100, he would throw good money after bad.

His manager, Harry Shannon, a gentleman of strict rectitude, bargained that we would collaborate on Bradley's biography when he should die, but Harry, a much younger man and apparently robust, died long before the boss. I suspect that the memoirs are lost to history and letters.

No doubt some dealers of the old Casino school were guilty of mischief when school was out, for some very pretty ladies idle around gambling rooms who seem to forget the teachings of their mothers and their pastors. But, speaking generally, gambling is not a concomitant of carnality. They go together only by coincidence. Paris never was a gambling town.

Gambling is a theme in the history of New Orleans. It is a bug, not necessarily a sprocket, in her blood. Huey Long's treaty with Frank Costello was a personal arrangement consistent with the code's habits and character, according to the Louisiana Purchase. Her laws to this day are French and her temperament and politics are more like Havana's than like New York's. Under the provocation of the recent high school riots

Questions - Answers

Q—How can the United Nations Charter be amended?

A—Two-thirds of the members of the General Assembly must recommend an amendment. Before it becomes effective, the recommendation must be ratified by two-thirds of the U.N. members, including the five permanent members of the Security Council.

Q—How do birds lose their feathers?

A—By molting, but the loss is slow and new feathers quickly take the place of the old ones. It is lost all its feathers at the same time, it would lose its power of flight.

Q—Are there any living animals as large as the dinosaurs?

A—The 150-ton blue whale is larger than the largest of the dinosaurs of former geological ages.

Q—Is cigarette smoking increasing in the United States?

A—There is a steady upward trend. During 1949, some 352 billion were smoked, about 1 per cent more than during 1948.

Q—Why are Wilton carpets so called?

A—They are named after Wilton, England, where a carpet factory was established in 1740, employing expert weavers imported from France.

In another account, Jurist told of a time 50 men ran to freedom over narrow boards placed over barbed wire entanglements, while 150 other men were distracting the guards in another section of the camp. How radio parts, maps and other escape materials were smuggled in to Allied prisoners was another interesting item. Although the Germans thoroughly inspected every parcel—they even went so far as to slit open every cigarette—articles still were received. As an example, he told of how maps were sent in disguise as waxed paper on ordinary cracker boxes. President Theodore R. Lee announced that there will be no meeting of the Lions Club next Tuesday, Memorial Day.

KRIPPLEBUSH

Has Been Jailed 87 Days
St. Albans, Vt., May 24 (AP)—For 87 days, Mrs. Hattie Cooke, 36-year-old mother of six, has been in Franklin county jail under Vermont's "closed jail" statute governing damage suits. The wife of a $20-a-week farmhand, Mrs. Cooke was jailed for failure to pay a $1,367.75 judgment against her in an auto accident damage suit. Her husband Stanley said last night he was caring for the children, ranging in age from eight to 18, at the Cooke home in nearby Georgia. The 142-year-old statute provides for indefinite confinement for defendants in damage suits based on a "willful or malicious act, or neglect," where judgment is not paid.

Boy, 10, Is Held For Entering Store At West Shokan

A 10-year-old boy was picked up Tuesday afternoon by Sergeant A. A. Reilly, Trooper H. Rasmussen and Trooper Ray Dunn and charged with having entered the general store of Justice of the Peace Lester S. Davis at West Shokan on Sunday night, May 21.

Justice of the Peace Davis was absent from home Sunday night and on his return found the store had been entered and about $10 taken from the cash register. The theft was reported to the State Police, who said entrance was gained to the store by climbing to the front porch roof and forcing a window to the Davis apartment on the second floor. Entrance was then gained to the store on the first floor and after the cash register was rifled the boy left by a bathroom door off the store, the troopers said.

The boy admitted entrance to the store and the money was recovered by the troopers where it had been hidden in the woods. The matter will be aired in Children's Court.

Half Million Added To Various Work

Washington, May 24 (AP)—The Bureau of Labor Statistics reported today that more than a half million workers were added to industrial and commercial pay rolls between mid-March and mid-April.

The bureau said that about 800,000 jobs were added to the work force in the two months ended April 15—not including the return of striking workmen.

Last year in the same period, employment declined by 100,000.

A total of 42,800,000 workers in these non-agricultural and non-military jobs was reported this year, approximating the level of April 1949.

Local Death Record

Marion Cemetery.

Smith Is Held On Gun Charge

James Smith, 51, of 507 Broadway was arrested Tuesday afternoon by Sergeant Arthur A. Reilly and Trooper H. Rasmussen following discharge from the hospital where Smith had been confined since April 20 when he allegedly shot himself. Smith was charged with carrying a loaded revolver and taken before Justice of the Peace Percy Bush of the town of Ulster. Bail was fixed in the sum of $500 and provided for a hearing on May 26.

It is alleged by the officers that Smith shot himself while seated in his car near Glenview Park on Route 9-W. The bullet entered below the heart and came out the back. He then started to drive home and stopped at a gas station for a glass of water. The state police were notified of the incident and Smith was stopped near the police barracks at Lake Katrine, taken to the hospital and yesterday on being discharged was arraigned before the justice for possession of the gun.

Palen Death Is Termed Suicide

Ernest Robert Palen, 60, was found dead at his home in West Shokan Tuesday shortly after noon by his wife. A charge of shot from a double-barreled shotgun had practically blown the top of his head off.

Coroner Arthur C. Chipp of Kerhonkson pronounced it suicide. The body was turned over to the Victor N. Lasher Funeral Home at Woodstock.

Mrs. Palen, who had been at the home of a daughter overnight returned to the home which is in an apartment building back of the Colonge store at West Shokan, and on entering her bedroom found her husband dead. Constable Eugene Nicholas was called and he in turn notified Sheriff George Smith and County Investigator Clayton W. Vredenburg and County Identification Officer Leonard Belmont went to the scene. Coroner Chipp was also notified.

Palen, who was born at Palen-town, town of Olive, it was disclosed during the investigation had apparently been despondent for a time. Coroner Chipp stated it was revealed Palen last Friday had threatened to kill himself.

County Investigator Vredenburg reported Palen had been only been dead several hours when the body was found and it is believed the act was committed early Tuesday morning. The charge of shot struck near the right eye and inflicted injuries which must have caused instant death. Sergeant Arthur Chipp, Trooper Rasmussen and Trooper Ray Dunn were also notified of the shooting and went to the scene.

Palen is survived by his wife, Mary Elizabeth Conklin Palen and three daughters, Mrs. Gertrude Palen Terwilliger of High Falls, Mrs. Gladys Crispell and Mrs. Blanche Trowbridge of Olive Bridge, and one son, Roy Palen of Yonkers, also a step-daughter, Catherine Mercer of West Shokan, and a sister, Mrs. Fred Osterhoudt of Yonkers.

Private funeral services will be held Friday at 2:30 p. m. from the Lasher Funeral Home in Woodstock. The Rev. Walter A. White of Kingston will officiate. Burial will be in the Palen-town cemetery.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Palen; a son, Roy L. Palen of Yonkers; three daughters, Mrs. Harold Trowbridge and Mrs. Robert Crispell, Olive Bridge; and Mrs. Roger Terwilliger, High Falls; nine grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. Fred Osterhoudt of Yonkers.

Local 40-Bers Will Greet High Officer

Members of Ulster County Veterans, 40 and 8 Society of the American Legion, will attend a reception in honor of 40 and 8 highest officer at 12:30 tonight. Thomas J. Bohan, Walter J. Miller, Andrew J. Murphy, Jr., Andrew J. Murphy, 3rd, and Robert Van Gansbeek.

The reception is being given by Albany County Veterans 318 in honor of Chief de Chemin de Fer Clarence Smith of Raleigh, N. C. At a meeting of Ulster County Veterans on May 17, authority was granted to give selected foreign delegates in Memorial Day parades in Port Jervis on the morning of May 30 and in Kingston that afternoon. Disabled veterans are invited to ride in it for the parade.

Bard Will Honor

Bard College has launched its international scholarship program designed to give selected foreign students an opportunity to spend a year of study and travel in the United States to learn how we live and make a living. Candidates have been selected with the assistance of the Department of Personnel of the United Nations and of other private and public agencies. It is the first of several projects that have been planned to provide the basis for a new program in the arts of communication.

Assisting the college in the development of its international scholarship program is an advisory council of nine business and professional leaders: Spyros Skoufopoulos, president, Twentieth Century-Fox Film Corp.; Thomas McKelrick, vice president, Chase National Bank; Malcolm Davis, executive associate, Carnegie Foundation for International Peace; Herbert C. Pell, former congressman and retired diplomat; Margaret Webster, actress and producer; Mary Martin, actress; Philip Wilcox, lawyer and member of the Indiana state legislature; Lowell Thomas, radio commentator; and Mary Hartman Fisk, educator.

Ram Is Expected To Send Water Over Spillway

A heavy rain this morning caused the flow of streams filling the Ashokan reservoir to an extent that it is expected reservoir will probably receive enough run-off from the storm fill the reservoir and send water over the spillway of the lower basin.

The east or lower basin of Ashokan reservoir has an elevation of 587 feet at the flow. This morning the elevation of water in the lower basin was reported to be 587.03 feet. At spillway there have been one flash-board a foot in height. The flash-board has been on the Ashokan would overflow the spillway when the elevation exceeded 587 feet.

Water has been flowing in the dividing weir between the upper and lower basins for several days and the water level in lower basin is becoming rapidly. The additional foot of water level is caused by flash-board amounts to a considerable storage capacity is needed by the City of New York in its present water emergency.

Westchester county reservoirs are low and in the system there is approximately 10 per cent of capacity.

Larkin Is Winner Of School Prize

John L. Larkin, son of Dr. and Mrs. John F. Larkin of Kingston, a member of the graduating class at Albany Law School was one of the 1950 prize trial winners at Albany Law School tournament conducted in the school's courtroom last Friday evening. Albany Business College students made up the jury and District Attorney William M. Nicol of Schenectady was the presiding justice.

This trial was the last in a series of eliminations in the moot court competition for seniors at the law school and the first and second teams of counsel received prize awards of $50 and $30 respectively. The awards are made by the trustees at graduation.

John L. Larkin of Kingston and A. Franklin Mahoney of Troy were the winners in the contest. They appeared for the plaintiffs in the contest with Gerald T. Honesssey of Schenectady and John A. Van Etten of Niagara Falls appearing for the defendant. They were awarded second prize. The action was brought to recover for the "wrongful death of plaintiff's mother, which allegedly resulted from negligence of a paving contractor in laying a pipe across the sidewalk" causing plaintiff to trip and fall, resulting in death. The defendants pleaded death from a fall in the home as a result of a dizzy spell. The award is a much coveted one among the students of the law school.

Asks Day of Prayer

Washington, May 23 (AP)—President Truman asked the American people today to observe Memorial Day "as a day of prayer for permanent peace." In a proclamation, he designated the hour beginning at 11 a. m. (Eastern Daylight Saving Time), Tuesday, May 30, "as a period in which all our people may unite in prayer, each in accordance with his own religious faith, for divine aid in bringing enduring peace to a troubled world." The President acted under a congressional resolution which called for Memorial Day to be observed both by tributes to the heroic dead and by nation-wide prayer for peace.

San Mateo, Calif. (AP)—Lloyd Parish, 31, was pulling weeds on a strip dividing two super highways. Motorist Victor Kingman, 58, swerved to avoid a car ahead. His car somersaulted over Parish's head coming to rest in the opposite lane. Kingman and a passenger were seriously injured. Parish's only comment: "Suppose I'd been standing up."

Hartley Is Named
Masonic Leader
Of Greene-Ulster*HENRY S. HARTLEY

Henry S. Hartley of Saugerties has been appointed district deputy grand master of the Greene-Ulster Masonic District. It is made known by Richard A. Rowlands, grand master of Masons in New York state. He succeeds Russell R. Colton of Tannersville, who served as district deputy last year.

Also appointed in this area was Roger H. Loughran of Kingston to the important endowments committee.

Mr. Hartley is a funeral director in Saugerties. He is a member and past master of Ulster Lodge No. 193, and is also past assistant grand lecturer for the district.

The new appointees will be invested in office during the annual pilgrimage to the Masonic Home at Utica on St. John's Day, which takes place this year on June 24.

During the past year, the district deputies were active in the Masonic Brotherhood Fund which totaled nearly $300,000. It is expected that the district deputies this year will again assist in the drive, which has as its main objective a fund of a million dollars to provide a new infirmary at the Masonic Home at Utica. Other objectives of the drive have been support of the Masonic program of rheumatic fever research, which is carried on in seven research institutions and medical colleges in the state, and the support of Masonic Benevolence, which cares for those in distress in their own communities.

It is also the duty of the district deputy grand master to represent the grand master at functions which he cannot attend and to advise the lodges in his district on Masonic matters. He will preside at meetings and be available for personal consultations by members of the fraternity. His term of office will conclude when a new district deputy is appointed in 1951.

Composer Is Spanked

Moscow, May 23 (AP)—Dmitri Shostakovich was spanked in public again today. Shostakovich, considered one of the greats of modern Russian composers, was criticized for not working hard enough to finish his new opera, "October" (which apparently deals with the Russian Revolution.) The criticism was contained in a report of a meeting of the board of the Soviet composers union, carried by Pravda, the Communist Party newspaper. It was the second time around for Shostakovich. About two years ago he was criticized by the Congress of Soviet Composers for writing "decadent, bourgeois music," a fault he confessed publicly and promised to correct.

'Man of Month' Is Woman

Philadelphia, May 23 (AP)—A navy mothers club leader is Philadelphia's "Man of the Month." Mrs. Madeline Faxon, commander of the Philadelphia Navy Mothers Club 73, which provides entertainment for servicemen away from home, was named winner of the May award yesterday by Furey Ellis, founder of the monthly award. The award has in the past gone to other women. Founder Ellis apparently believes that if a woman does a man's job of work she deserves his award.

Written for NEA Service
East granted and looked very suspiciously at South. Since declarer was none other than Larceny Lou, East had good reason to be suspicious. However, East couldn't really be sure what the situation was.

Let's go back to the beginning, and we can see just what sort of problem East had. West opened the deuce of hearts, East put up the king, and South won with the ace. The no expression of cunning on Larceny Lou's face when he led the queen of diamonds to dummy's ace and returned the six of diamonds from dummy.

This is where we come in. East had to decide whether South was about to ruff the diamond or whether South was up to one of his regular swindles. If he played the king and South happened to ruff, dummy would then have an established diamond on which declarer could discard later on.

East finally decided that South was probably "honest." After all, the normal finesse in diamonds might have been attempted if Larceny Lou happened to hold both the queen and the ten of diamonds. East therefore played low on the second round of diamonds. This was all that Lou needed. He won the second round of diamonds with the ten and drew two rounds of trumps, ending in dummy. He next led the jack of diamonds through East. East played the king this time, and South ruffed. He returned to dummy with a trump, cashed the nine of diamonds and thus wound up with eleven tricks.

If Lou had taken the normal finesse in diamonds, East would have won with the king and returned the jack of clubs. The defenders would have taken three clubs, a diamond, and a heart. Hence Lou would have been set two tricks.

It is interesting to note that Lou was not worried about giving up the normal diamond finesse. If West had been able to win the second round of diamonds with the king, South would have been in no danger.

There would be no way to give the lead to East. (The play of the king of hearts at the first trick marked the queen of hearts as being in the West hand.) If West led clubs, South could win the second round of the suit with his king. Dummy would eventually provide two diamond discards. If West stayed away from clubs, declarer could draw trumps and get his discards on dummy's diamonds anyway.

Truman Rejects Bid To Surrender to Reds

Washington, May 24 (AP)—President Truman has rejected publicly a suggestion that the United States surrender to Russia.

Aided by Attorney General McGrath, he lugged an iron bench across the White House lawn yesterday to provide a rostrum from which he told a group of delegates to the fifth annual Conference of Citizenship.

"I had a card from Los Angeles this morning, in which the writer suggested to me in all seriousness that the proper thing to do was to surrender to Russia. He said we may lose our freedom but it is better to lose our freedom than to lose our lives. Now, what do you think of that? That is Patrick Henry in reverse, if I know anything."

Mr. Truman did not identify the author of the suggestion.

Will Be Operated Upon

London, May 24 (AP)—Britain's acting Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin returns to a hospital next Tuesday for a second operation for hemorrhoids. A foreign office announcement said Bevin, who left the hospital May 4 after the first operation, has interrupted his treatment to attend the meetings of the Big Three and Atlantic Pact foreign ministers.

Not All Are Scared

Washington, May 24 (AP)—Not all crooks are scared of Attorney General J. Howard McGrath, who can whistle up doves of straight-shooting F.B.I. agents whenever he wants. Some intrepid thief stole his 12-year-old son's bicycle yesterday. It was parked outside a church.

As Pegler Sees It

In New York, New Orleans would have been likely to lynch a passel of them as she lynched a bunch of Italians in exasperation long ago.

Consulting my hope-chest on this topic, I came upon a treasured letter from a client of these essays written in 1932 which, after all this time, is still to the point or not far off it.

"Your column on the tribulations of certain sportsmen whose horses were impounded for their feed bills in New Orleans calls to mind an account of that city's gambling fraternity during the Civil War by one George Devol, a steamboat card-sharper who later turned square," the letter said.

"A very irregular cavalry unit was formed for the defense of the city and called 'The Gamblers' Troop.' The boys took to gold lace and Confederate gray but were short on tactics and drill. Every morning they would ride out waving their swords at the admiring throng, but once in open country, the whole outfit would dismount under shade trees and begin dealing stud on dew. The troop had only three commands—halt, dismount and deal."

As General Butler approached, 'The Gamblers' Troop' rode out courageously, but the general ordered a round of canister over their heads that automatically demobilized 'The Gamblers' Troop.' The boys were game enough bucking Old Tige, but Tige never shot at them."

With a shudder I yield to the probability that today's public does not understand that to play duro was to buck the tiger and that Tige was an affectionate synonym for fero, the gamblers' game.

"It seems that all the mounts were racehorses so by the time Butler reached town the boys had prudently stabled their steeds and hidden their uniforms and were able to turn out to meet the invader clad in multi. Nevertheless, the general had them all locked up. This order worked no great hardship. When Butler visited them in jail he found them eating chicken and drinking champagne and waited on hand and foot by slaves. There was a pretty fair game going on.

"After a while Devol was released. But they had to lock him up again because he beguiled a Union paymaster into some antebellum form of chuck-a-luck and won the army's bankroll. General Butler made Devol give the army its money back on the theory that the inexperienced paymaster had not been playing for keeps. Anyhow, he figured that Devol had taken an unfair advantage of a beginner. By this time, however, the general had taken a genuine liking to Devol. So, as a token of his personal regard, he presented the gambler with two silver spoons which he had lifted off a Confederate family up at Natchez."

Flatbush Church Movie

"Return of Rusty," featuring Ted Donaldson, John Lital and Mark Dennis will be shown in the social hall of the Flatbush Reformed Church, Thursday at 8:15 p. m. It is a story of a boy with a dog and a boy without a country and is one that will appeal to young and old. The ladies of the church will serve refreshments. A free will offering will be taken. Proceeds will go to the Ellen Russell Finger Home for Aged Women in Sagerties. The public is cordially invited.

No Guided Missiles

Los Angeles, May 24 (AP)—The U. S. will have no guided missiles ready for combat tests for several years, says a rocket authority. "Progress, however, is encouraging," E. P. Whenton, guided missiles engineer for Douglas Aircraft Co., told the American Rocket Society yesterday. "Our missile research has reached the point where we are out of the research and development stage and into the engineering stage. Intercontinental missiles as weapons are impossible until machines can be endowed with human judgment," he said.

Minnesota Man Held For Killing in 1933

Winona, Minn., May 24 (AP)—A first degree murder charge was being readied today against a 62-year-old man in the death of a woman. Mrs. Lorenz, wife he said 17 years ago he had 49 and married to Lorenz for 30 years, was killed March 31, 1933, at the tavern and cafe she and Lorenz admitted in a statement yesterday that he shot the woman deliberately because I was seeing another woman. Mrs. Lorenz, wife he said 17 years ago he had 49 and married to Lorenz for 30 years, was killed March 31, 1933, at the tavern and cafe she and Lorenz admitted in a statement yesterday that he shot the woman

Port said the story was disclosed after Lorenz was taken into custody for investigation of Lorenz firing a shotgun blast into a door at the John Pealofski home. Pealofski was not injured. Records from 1933 disclosed the coroner called Mrs. Lorenz's death accidental. Despite the crude surveying instruments of the 1760's, the Mason-Dixon line was eventually found to be only 180 feet off

Congregation Honors Departing Minister; 'Happy and Proud About His Promotion'

St. James Methodist Church prepared today to bid farewell to its popular 44-year-old pastor, the Rev. Merrill C. Johnson, who has been appointed superintendent of the New York District of the Methodist Church—a district comprising 51 pastoral appointments in New York city and Westchester county.

Mr. Johnson, and his wife and their children, Halvard, 13, and Beatrice, 11, will be guests of honor tomorrow night at a farewell party given by the St. James W.S.C.S. with all church members and their guests invited. The party will be held at the church.

"We are indeed happy and proud of our pastor's promotion," said Mrs. Fred Decker, president of the W.S.C.S. "Our sincere good wishes go with him and his family."

In taking leave of his congregation, Mr. Johnson said he would take with him "many pleasant memories of Kingston."

"There is a certain element of anticipation in taking up new work and at the same time, regret at leaving friends that we have made and work unfinished," he declared. "However, church work is always unfinished, I suppose. We have had three happy years here and take with us many pleasant memories of Kingston and our friends here."

Born in Milwaukee, the minister attended Northwestern University, and in 1932 came east to study at Union Theological Seminary. For three years he served as assistant pastor to the Rev.

REV. MERRILL C. JOHNSON

Ralph Sockman at Christ Church. In 1935, he was graduated and appointed to serve the Methodist Churches in Pine Bush, Walker Valley and Carmel.

For five years, from 1939 to 1944, he was pastor of the Metropolitan-Duane Church in Greenwich Village, New York city, and then went to a Methodist Church in Middletown. He came to Kingston from Middletown in 1947.

He and his family will leave for New York next week.

Y-Deal Picnickers Bailed by Rain, Eat Supper Indoors

A picnic in the Y.W.C.A. building was held last night in impromptu fashion by the members of the Y-Deal Club—who gathered there in order to go en masse to their scheduled picnic supper at Lawton Park.

But the rains came and the girls stayed and had their picnic indoors. After supper Miss Dorothy Studt reported on the Planning Conference held at Troy last Saturday and Sunday. Miss Studt and Miss Marcela Clark attended.

Next Tuesday the club will go in a body to the Tumor Clinic. Any girl interested in attending is invited to meet the group at the Y.W.C.A. at 7:15 p. m.

Dean Bohnke Heads Baptist Couples Club

Dean Bohnke has been elected president of the First Baptist Church Couples Club. It was announced today. Other officers chosen were: Eugene Pelham, vice president; Mrs. Chauncy Elliott, secretary, and Chester Greene, treasurer.

It was also announced that the club had made its final payment on a $100 pledge for the Church Improvement Fund, at its meeting last Wednesday. Mrs. Harry P. Van Wageningen, executive director of the Ulster County Branch of the American Cancer Society showed movies and lectured on the control of cancer.

Miss Dorothy Winder sang two numbers and played a piano solo, "The Anniversary Song" in honor of the club's fourth anniversary. Refreshments were served after the entertainment.

Dr. H. M. Eberhard, well known gastro-enterologist of Philadelphia, will be guest speaker. He has a summer home at Woodland Valley.

He will speak on "A Physician's Viewpoint on General Education." He is a fellow of the American Medical Association, associate of the American College of Physicians, fellow of the American Proctologic Association and the American Therapeutic Association, diplomate of the American Board of Internal Medicine, and vice president of the National Gastro-enterological Association.

Twaalfskill Holds Ladies' Day; Plans Supper and Dance

Thirty-one members attended Ladies' Day at the Twaalfskill Club yesterday. Luncheon was served and a social hour enjoyed by the non-golfers. Hostesses were Mrs. N. LeVan Haver and Mrs. Reynolds Carr.

It was announced that the club would have a buffet supper and dance Saturday evening, instead of the steak roast previously planned for that date, and members were asked to make their reservations before Friday by telephoning 1171.

The club will not hold Ladies' Day next week, because of the Memorial holiday. The next meeting will be Tuesday, June 6, with Mrs. L. V. Bogert and Mrs. Louis Kogler as hostesses.

Parade, Speakers To Honor War Dead In Town of Olive

Pratt Boice, president of the Ulster County Savings Institution, former resident of the Town of Olive, will be the principal speaker at the Memorial Day celebration of the Town of Olive American Legion Post 3627 at 2 p. m. on Memorial Day at the memorial plaque in Olive Bridge.

A parade will move from the fire house to the plaque. Participants will be the Olive Memorial Post, Legion Auxiliary, three troops of Boy Scouts, and a troop of Girl Scouts, the children of the Ontario Central School, the Shoken Lodge of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs, the firemen, and the Chamber of Commerce.

John M. Moche, supervising principal of the Ontario Central School, will present awards to the winners of an essay writing contest sponsored annually by the Legion. The winners will read their own essays, and then will receive their awards. The senior essay, for grades nine to 12, was on the subject "The Responsibilities of Citizenship." The junior contest, grades five to eight, was on the topic "Why I Like Being an American."

Marks 102nd Birthday

Middletown, N. Y., May 24—Mrs. Susan Horton has just finished a week-long birthday celebration. She had good reason for the prolonged festivities.

Mrs. Horton was born 102 years ago at Liberty Corners, an Orange county hamlet, and has always lived near there. A widow for 21 years, Mrs. Horton now lives with her daughter, Mrs. James Mattison here. Mrs. Horton says she feels fine although she admitted her sight and hearing aren't what they were—say 50 years ago.

Queen Will Reign At Hurley School May Day Festival

Marilyn Vogt will be crowned Queen of May at the Hurley school tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock and will preside over the school's May Day exercises.

She will be crowned by Class President Robert Read, and will have as her attendants Janice Elliott and maid of honor, Meta Weidner, Albert Donstedt, Ingeborg Dedy, Robert Johnson, Melinda Basch, Terry Read, Joan Kolodziej, Robert Harjes, Barbara Bush, Robert Steuding, Carolyn Myer and Clifford Miller. Mary Lee Warren will be flower girl and Donald Schenck crown bearer.

The exercises will include singing, square dancing, minuets, tumbling, bicycle riding, rhythm band, airplane flying, yodeling and the traditional May Pole dance.

If it should rain tomorrow morning, the celebration will be held Friday at the same time. The public is invited.

Robert Wolfersteig Will Receive B.M. From Conservatory

Robert Wolfersteig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wolfersteig of Connelly, will be graduated from the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music June 8 with the degree of Bachelor of Music.

During his four years at the conservatory, he has served as organist and choir master of the St. Thomas Episcopal Church in Terrace Park, Ohio. On May 14, the choir presented Mendelssohn's "Elijah" under his direction.

Mr. Wolfersteig, who recently was given a farewell dinner by the church, also participated in the Cincinnati May Festival as a member of the solo chorus, and coached the opera "Wilhelm Tell" by Benjamin Britten which was produced in April.

He is expected to return home immediately after graduation, and then will go to the Deerwood-Adirondack Music Center at Saranac where he will be accompanist and counselor for the summer months.

Mrs. Taft Won't Share Husband's Campaign

Washington, May 24 (AP)—The election campaign team of "Bob and Martha"—which has advanced the political fortunes of Senator Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) to high mention for the presidency—finally has broken down. Senator Taft told a gathering of Ohio Republican congressmen and congressional nominees last night that the illness of Mrs. Taft, the Martha in their team, probably will make it impossible for her to share the campaign platform with him this year.

Mrs. Taft long has been recognized as a capable campaigner for her famous husband, "Senator Bob," with whom she has toured the nation often in his quest for the Republican presidential nomination.

Mrs. Taft is a patient in a Washington hospital for treatment of a high blood pressure condition.

Seven Killed in Crash

Glasgow, Scotland, May 24 (AP)—A speeding trolley crashed into an overturned double-decker bus, killing seven persons and injuring 43 here today. The bus, loaded bus and imbedded itself in the work-bound people, overs coming of the lower deck. A girl, turned in the path of the trolley, was about 17 years old, and was killed. The height of the morning rush was killed. Twelve of these men, the trolley, also crowded, were reported in a serious condition.

Do You Remember

by SOPHIE MILLER

Daniel Carney of St. Remy, who owns an Ulster County Directory of 1871 and 1872, kindly copied the recent Pell Farm items for me. I asked perhaps there was something on the General Sharpe's Orchards, as I understand Gen. Sharpe was known for his extensive fruit produce. Mr. Carney says, perhaps in a later edition than 1872 may be a coverage of the above, but he does send the following on Esopus.

Esopus was formed from Kingston, April 5, 1811. A part was set off to Kingston, and a part to Hurley was annexed in 1818, and a part of New Paltz, April 12, 1842. It lies upon the Hudson and is the central town upon the east border of the county.

The surface is rolling in the east and moderately hilly in the west. A range of hills extends north and south, through the center of the town. The highest peak of which is 1,832 feet above tide. Huzzey Hill, named from an Indian south of Rondout, is 1,060 feet high. Walkkill forms a part of the west boundary, and Rondout Creek forms the remaining part of the west and the north boundary. Swartkill and Black Creek are in the south part. The soil is light clay loam. Fruit growing is an important branch of business. Cement is considerably manufactured, and considerable commerce is carried on by means of the river and Delaware and Hudson Canal. Along the bluffs that overlook the Hudson are some fine residences. Two light-houses are built in the river opposite this town. One of them is at the mouth of Rondout Creek. A new light-house is in process of construction for Esopus Meadows. The foundation is to consist of 250 piles, 40 feet long, driven down solid and cut off three feet below low water mark; these piles are to be capped with timber 12 inches square, plank over with three inch pine plank, making a round pier, 49 feet at the base and 46 at the top. The house is to be 27 feet, 10 inches square, one story with mansard roof. Surmounted by a tower for the light, 52 feet above mean low water.

According to item I have, "First government lighthouse at mouth of Rondout Creek was built in 1837, by James S. McEntee. This structure was carried away by a freshet two years later and then rebuilt. Mrs. Murdoch has kept this light for nearly 50 years since 1838. This from Judge Clearwater's book."

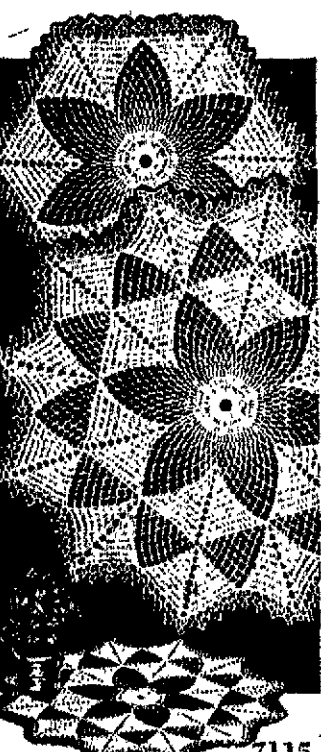

Mr. Carney sent the following on the famous Delaware and Hudson Canal which extended through the county along the valley of Rondout Creek, and connected the Delaware River with the Hudson at Rondout. This company was incorporated April 23, 1823, with a capital of $1,500,000. The original cost of the New York section was $1,424,994, and of the Pennsylvania section $812,123. The canal was originally constructed to afford a depth of four feet, and navigable for boats of 30 tons. In 1842 it was enlarged to accommodate boats of 40 tons. And in 1851 further enlarged for 120 ton boats. The amount of coal shipped on this canal during season of 1870 was 1,287,000 tons.

Crossbreds Are Gentle

Matheson, Colo. (AP)—Talk about Brahmas bulls and most people picture a wild-eyed critter coming out of a rodeo chute bent for leather with a cowpoke hanging on for dear life. Those people haven't seen the gentle Brahmas cattle which are predominant in Colorado, Texas and elsewhere in the nation. About one-half Brahmas, a quarter Shorthorn and a quarter Hereford, the beefmasters are so domesticated that in some cases ranches don't even need cowboys to round them up. They just sound a siren and the cattle come charging in.

ABOUT A TABLE RULE

It seems curious that so much importance should have been placed on this table rule: "When the main course of a meal has been eaten, it was always my understanding that the knife and fork were laid side by side on the plate with prongs of the fork up. My husband says he was not only taught at home that at this time in the meal the prongs should point down, but he was also taught that at boarding school. Which is correct?"

In this country the fork is put with prongs up. There are, however, countries abroad in which it is customary to put the monogram (or crest) on the back of the forks, and then they are placed with prongs down. When the fork and knife are placed close together, this does mean you have finished eating—whether the prongs are up or down.

Thank-You Unnecessary

Dear Mrs. Post: When our baby arrived and people who visited us brought her gifts I thanked them right at the time and never wrote notes. I hardly thought notes were necessary. But I've received thank-you notes for gifts I've delivered in similar manner and would, therefore, like to know.

Answer: If you paid attention to the gift and said thank you with sufficiently warm appreciation, there is no reason for following your verbal thanks with a note.

Turnesa Remains British Choice

St. Andrews, Scotland, May 24 (AP)—Double trouble loomed for contestants in the British Amateur golf championship today, particularly for Wee Willie Turnesa of Elmford, N. Y., the favorite.

The tournament sped up its pace to two rounds daily. If Turnesa wins his morning match with Britain's A. G. Helm, it appeared he would face the formidable Bill Campbell, young state representative from Huntington, W. Va., in the afternoon.

Campbell, a big blond better now in top form, was expected to make a clash with Turnesa possible by whipping John Orr of Britain in the third, or morning, round. The West Virginian looked sharp yesterday in fouting John Graham of Scotland, 5 and 3, showing observers the form that won for him the North and South title earlier this year and the Tam O'Shanter amateur crown last season. Campbell also was a semi-finalist in last year's U. S. National amateur, bowing to the eventual winner, Charles Coe.

Either Willie the Wedge or the tall legislator had to drop by the wayside along with 95 others today. Some experts thought it might be Turnesa, the 1947 winner of this famed tournament, although Willie remained a solid gallery favorite.

Turnesa remained the choice to lift Irishman Sam McCready's crown. Also expected to advance were Frank Stranahan of Toledo, O., the 1948 victor; Dick Chapman, Pinehurst, N. C.; James McHale, Philadelphia, and Bill Goodloe, Valdosta, Ga.

FEIN'S KEGLERS WIN SIXTH STRAIGHT CROWN

Benny Fein's Liquor Store trundlers swept to their sixth consecutive Saugerties Mixed Bowling League title in the 1949-50 season just completed. The team swept both halves of the pennant race and rolled two league records with 946 and 2737. The Little Giant is shown on the extreme left. Other team members, Bill Coons, Josie Coons, Celi Saunders, Eva Stoly, Harold Martin and Bill Ricketson (George's Photo Service, Saugerties).

Major League Roundup

By JOE REICHLER

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Young Bill Macdonald, rookie bonus righthander, fits right into the Pittsburgh pitching tradition.

When the 21-year-old native of Alameda, Calif., first bonus player in the Pirates organization, hurled a shutout last night in his first major league starting assignment, he followed a Pittsburgh pattern set by Nick Maddox 43 years ago.

It was on September 13, 1907, that Maddox became the first National Leaguer since 1900 to pitch a shutout in his big league debut.

He blanked the St. Louis Cardinals, 4-0, striking out 11.

Macdonald became the 19th National Leaguer to turn the trick—and the sixth to wear a Pittsburgh uniform. He joins such Pirate notables as Babe Adams (April 4, 1909), Wilbur Cooper (September 9, 1912), Carmen Hill (September 17, 1915) and Otis Swigart (September 21, 1939).

The last National League pitcher to turn in a scoreless game in his big league bow was Don Newcombe. The Brooklyn righthander did it May 22, 1949. A total of 27 American League pitchers have accomplished the feat.

Grand Slam Decides

Macdonald, who won 13 and lost 11 at New Orleans in the Southern Association last year, United Philadelphia to three singles as the Pirates defeated the Phils, 6-0. A home run by Wally Westlake with the bases loaded in the eighth inning broke up a scoreless pitching duel between Macdonald and the Phils' Russ Meyer. Macdonald walked only one and fanned seven.

The defeat prevented the second-place Phils from gaining ground on the league-leading Dodgers, who dropped a 5-4 decision to the Chicago Cubs. Johnny Schmiltz's fine clutch pitching and a pair of sixth inning homers by Andy Pafko and Roy Smalley won for the Cubs. Losing Pitcher Ralph Branca was the victim of the four-baggers.

Ramsdell Stops Braves

The seldom-winning Cincinnati Reds celebrated the 15th anniversary of the first night game in the major leagues by beating the Boston Braves, 6-2, behind the effective twirling of Willie Ramsdell, former Brooklyn righthander.

The Washington Senators, shut out by four hits through eight innings, broke loose with an eight-run barrage in the ninth to whip the Detroit Tigers, 8-2.

Home runs by Gil Coan and Eddie Yost, the latter's coming with two on, featured the attack against Fred Hutchinson and two would-be rescuers. Sid Hudson went all the way for the Nats.

The St. Louis Browns gained their third home triumph of the season, defeating the Philadelphia Athletics, 7-1. Al Widmar, who joined the Browns after the season started because of salary differences, won his first game with a neat four-hit effort.

Rain washed out the scheduled night game between the Cards and Giants in New York. The other clubs were not scheduled.

First Inauguration Broadcast

The first broadcast of a presidential inauguration was of Calvin Coolidge's in 1925. The first telecast of such an event was that in 1949 of Harry S. Truman's.

Police Seeking Auto Linked to False Alarms

Police obtained a description of a car shortly after midnight believed to be the one driven by a person responsible for four false alarms between 10:23 and 11:16 p. m. yesterday.

Patrol cars checked the immediate areas of each alarm. They were in widely scattered sections of the city. The first was at Albany and Tremper avenues, the second at 10:31 p. m. was at Clifton avenue and Hayes street, the third at 11:09 Cedar and Stealing streets and the last at Wilbur avenue and Chapel street.

Officer Louis Sapp, Jr., reported at 12:01 a. m., today that he had been informed by a man that he had seen a car stop briefly on Cedar street and shortly after heard a fire alarm. The man supplied police with a description of the vehicle.

Firemen were called at 2:58 p. m. yesterday to 58 Downs street where excessive oil in a heater caused a fire scare. No damage resulted.
